

CBS Radio Mystery Theater

A Chronological Log

Compiled by

Jay Hickerson

CBS Radio Mystery Theater was created by Himan Brown and was hosted by E. G. Marshall. It premiered on January 6, 1974 with the last program broadcast on December 31, 1982. The programs were broadcast on CBS affiliates and were 60 minutes long. They were on 7 days a week until 1980. Then they were on Monday through Friday. The programs were based on new scripts and older stories. The stories ranged from murder and the supernatural to psychological problems of the day. The stories ranged from very good to very poor. Many CBS affiliates refused to carry the 60-minute shows, and if they did, broadcast them at a poor hour. Also, many commercials interrupted the flow of the story.

Besides using traditional radio stars, Brown also used actors from television, movies and the stage. Technical Director was Fred Himes.

On a separate sheet the writers and other pertinent information will be listed.

All titles will be listed when they were first broadcast. If a title is repeated, the date of the original broadcast will be indicated. All repeats are taped repeats. Up to 3 performers will be listed for each story when it was first presented. A total of 1410 original stories were broadcast. They were also 1558 repeats and two preemptions for a total of 2968 broadcasts.

Many thanks to Jerry Appleman and Dave Siegel for much of the information.

This log is arranged chronologically.

Also enclosed are the original broadcasts arranged
